THE ORGANISATION IS SUBORDINATE TO	• Minister of Justice • Minister of Interior
THE ORGANISATION REPORTS TO	Director general of Judicial police
POWERS AND TASKS MAIN FUNCTIONS	DJSOC/OCRC-CDBC has nation-wide jurisdiction in the fight against offences and serious and/or complex crimes in the field of: • public bribery; • the legislation on government procurement contracts; • the legislation on government and EU-subsidies; • public bribery implicating the institutions of the European Commission and violations to the regulations pertaining to European subsidies. It conducts autonomous investigations or lends support to police officers working corruption cases in the 14 judicial districts of Belgium.
THE ORGANISATION HAS COMPETENCE FOR	DJSOC/OCRC-CDBC conducts and carries out: strategic missions such as assuring a follow-up of the National Security Plan and carrying out and following up studies into the proper phenomenon.
THE FOLLOWING INSTITUTIONS OR BODIES ARE SUBJECT TO THE ORGANIZATION'S COMPETENCIES/TASKS	Following a reorganisation within the Belgian Federal Police in 2015, the Central Office for the Fight against Corruption is now part of the Serious Organized Crime Directorate (DJSOC) of the General Directorate of the Judicial Police. The Central Office for the Fight against Corruption combats bribery by/of public servants, extortion, and conflict of interests. It also deals with procurement fraud, subsidy fraud and private bribery and has a unit dedicated to fighting sports-related fraud and has a liaison police officer attached to the 'Gaming Commission'. The Central Office for the Fight against Corruption works based on a clear legal mandate, which is defined in the Law of 10 February 1999 on the repression of Corruption (Belgian national bulletin of 23 mars 1999). The Central Office for the Fight against Corruption has 54 investigators, 1 head of unit and one administrative assistant. The Central Office for the Fight against Corruption has nationwide jurisdiction in the fight against offences and serious and/or complex crimes in the field of: • public bribery • the legislation on government procurement contracts • the legislation on government and EU-subsidies • public bribery implicating the institutions of the European Commission and violations to the regulations pertaining to European subsidies

It conducts autonomous investigations or lends support to police officers working corruption cases in the 14 judicial districts of Belgium. The Central Office for the Fight against Corruption moreover conducts politically sensitive investigations due to the suspect under investigation or the nature of the institution under investigation and carries out strategic missions such as assuring a follow-up of the National Security Plan and carrying out and following up studies into the proper phenomenon.
